

Banat

AND ITS WINE REGIONS

www.winesofa.eu

Banat belongs to Serbia and Romania nowadays; however, some of its villages can be found on Hungarian territory. The most important name in the area is definitely the Recaș Winery and the Recaș D.O.C. in Romania, although the Banat D.O.C. area around Buziaș is also interesting in terms of its past and hopefully also its future. Crossing the border into Serbia, the most interesting wine region is around Vrșac. German settlers from Alsace produced amazing Gewürztraminers and Rieslings here, however the Banat Riesling was also an interesting variety.

-  Banat D.O.C.
-  Recaș D.O.C.
-  Vrșac region
-  other wine-growing areas

Main grape varieties

- Kreaca (Banat Riesling)
- Cabernet Sauvignon
- Merlot
- Fetească Regală
- Muscat Ottonel

