Tokaj Hill

The recorded vineyards are all officially defined, so that it is possible to produce vineyard-selected dry and sweet wines, as well as aszú. Historically, the first class vineyards were on the south-southeast side of the hill, but this quality classification (made in the first half of the 1700s) considered everything from the point of view of making aszú. Since dry vineyard-selected wines have also appeared in the wine region, the old second and third class vineyards have also grown in value.
